National Safety Council's Pediatric First Aid and CPR Program Thursday, October 28, 2010 in Metairie, LA

State Training Requirements

The State of Louisiana requires Class A Daycare Centers to have a minimum training in pediatric first aid and CPR. Accidental injuries are the leading health problem in children over the age of one year. The National Safety Council's Pediatric First Aid and CPR program is designed to help prepare individuals who work in daycare centers for such incidents.

This NSC program provides the most comprehensive content for first aid treatment for injuries and illnesses commonly seen in early childhood years. The latest basic life support guidelines for rescue breathing, CPR, and choking emergencies for infants, children, and adults are also included. This training program provides participants with the knowledge and skills necessary to help save the life of a child or infant. Written to "keep it simple", participants learn to prevent, recognize and provide care for both life-threatening and common conditions affecting children. Participants who successfully complete the skill and the written exam are eligible to receive the appropriate course completion cards valid for up to 2 years. The essential elements of emergency response training include:

- ✓ Preventing Childhood Injuries
